dial

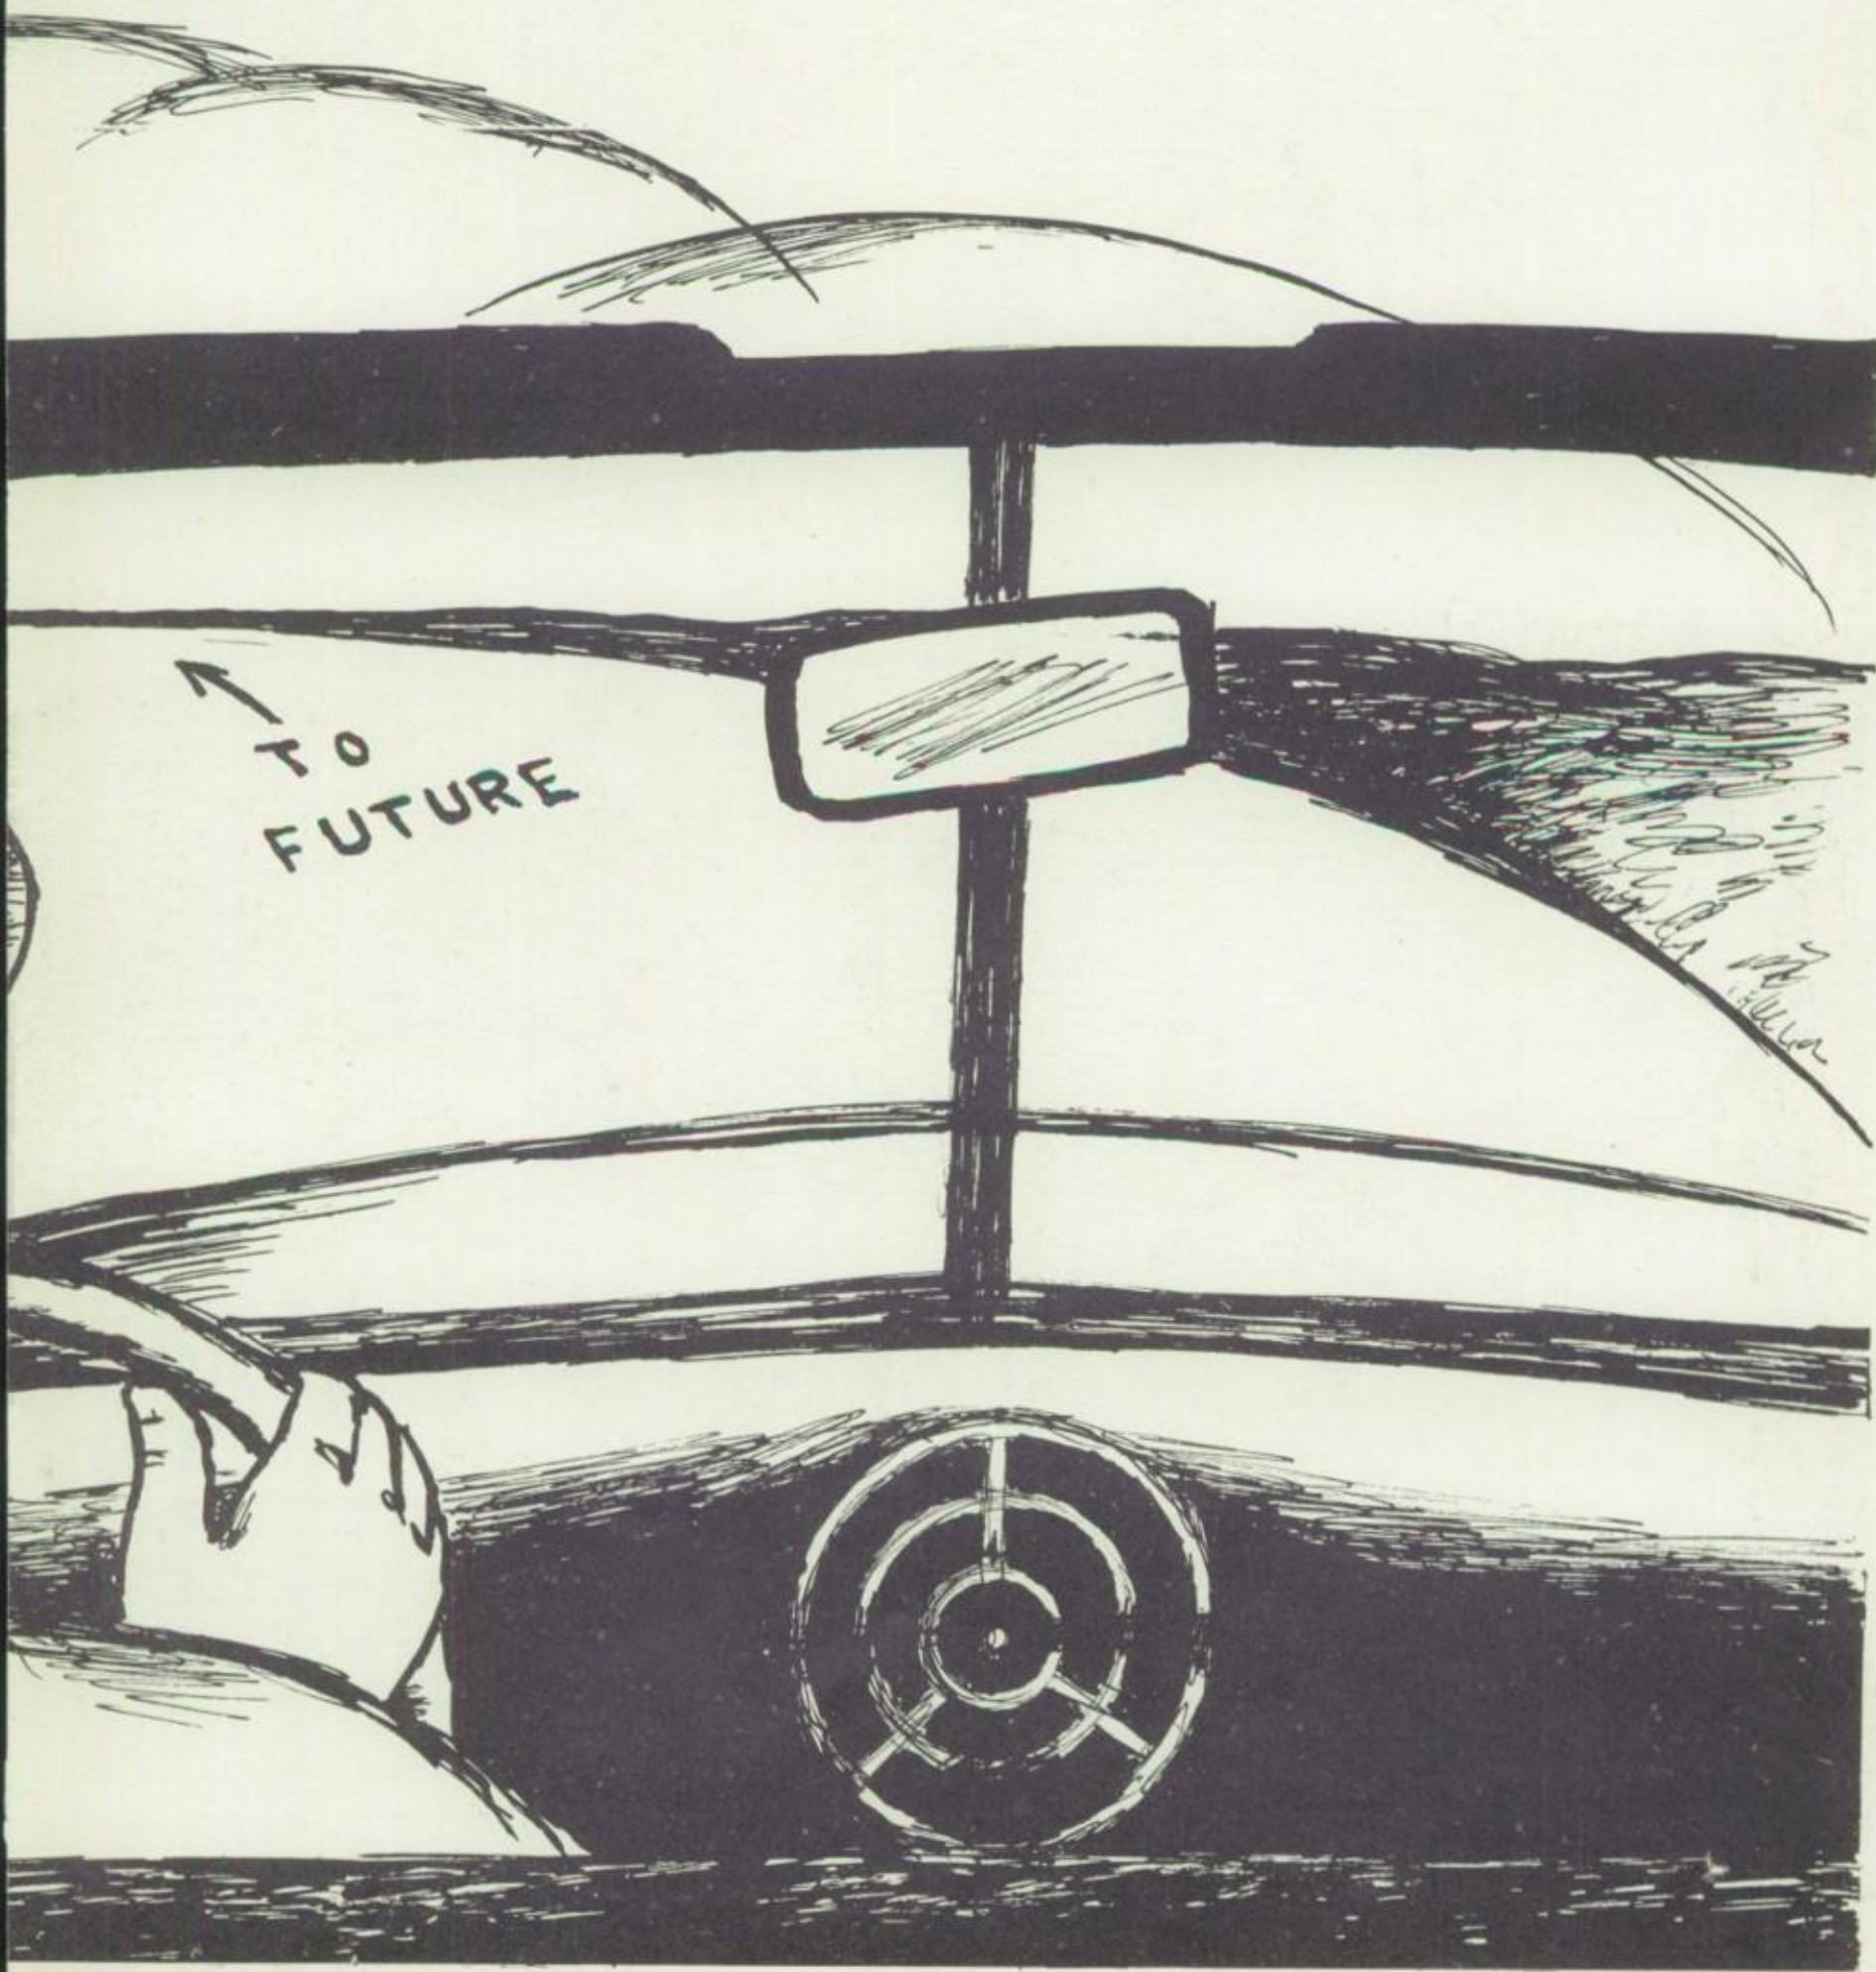

Published by the Journalism Class of Marshall High School, Marshall, Michigan.

Let's Take One Last Look . . .

for we, the graduates of 1953, will bear in our hearts forever the joys that have been ours these past four short years. To us, our high school life has been our whole existence. We have lived, worked, laughed, and cried with the same friends day after day. We have learned what real joy can be, right here in the halls of Marshall High.

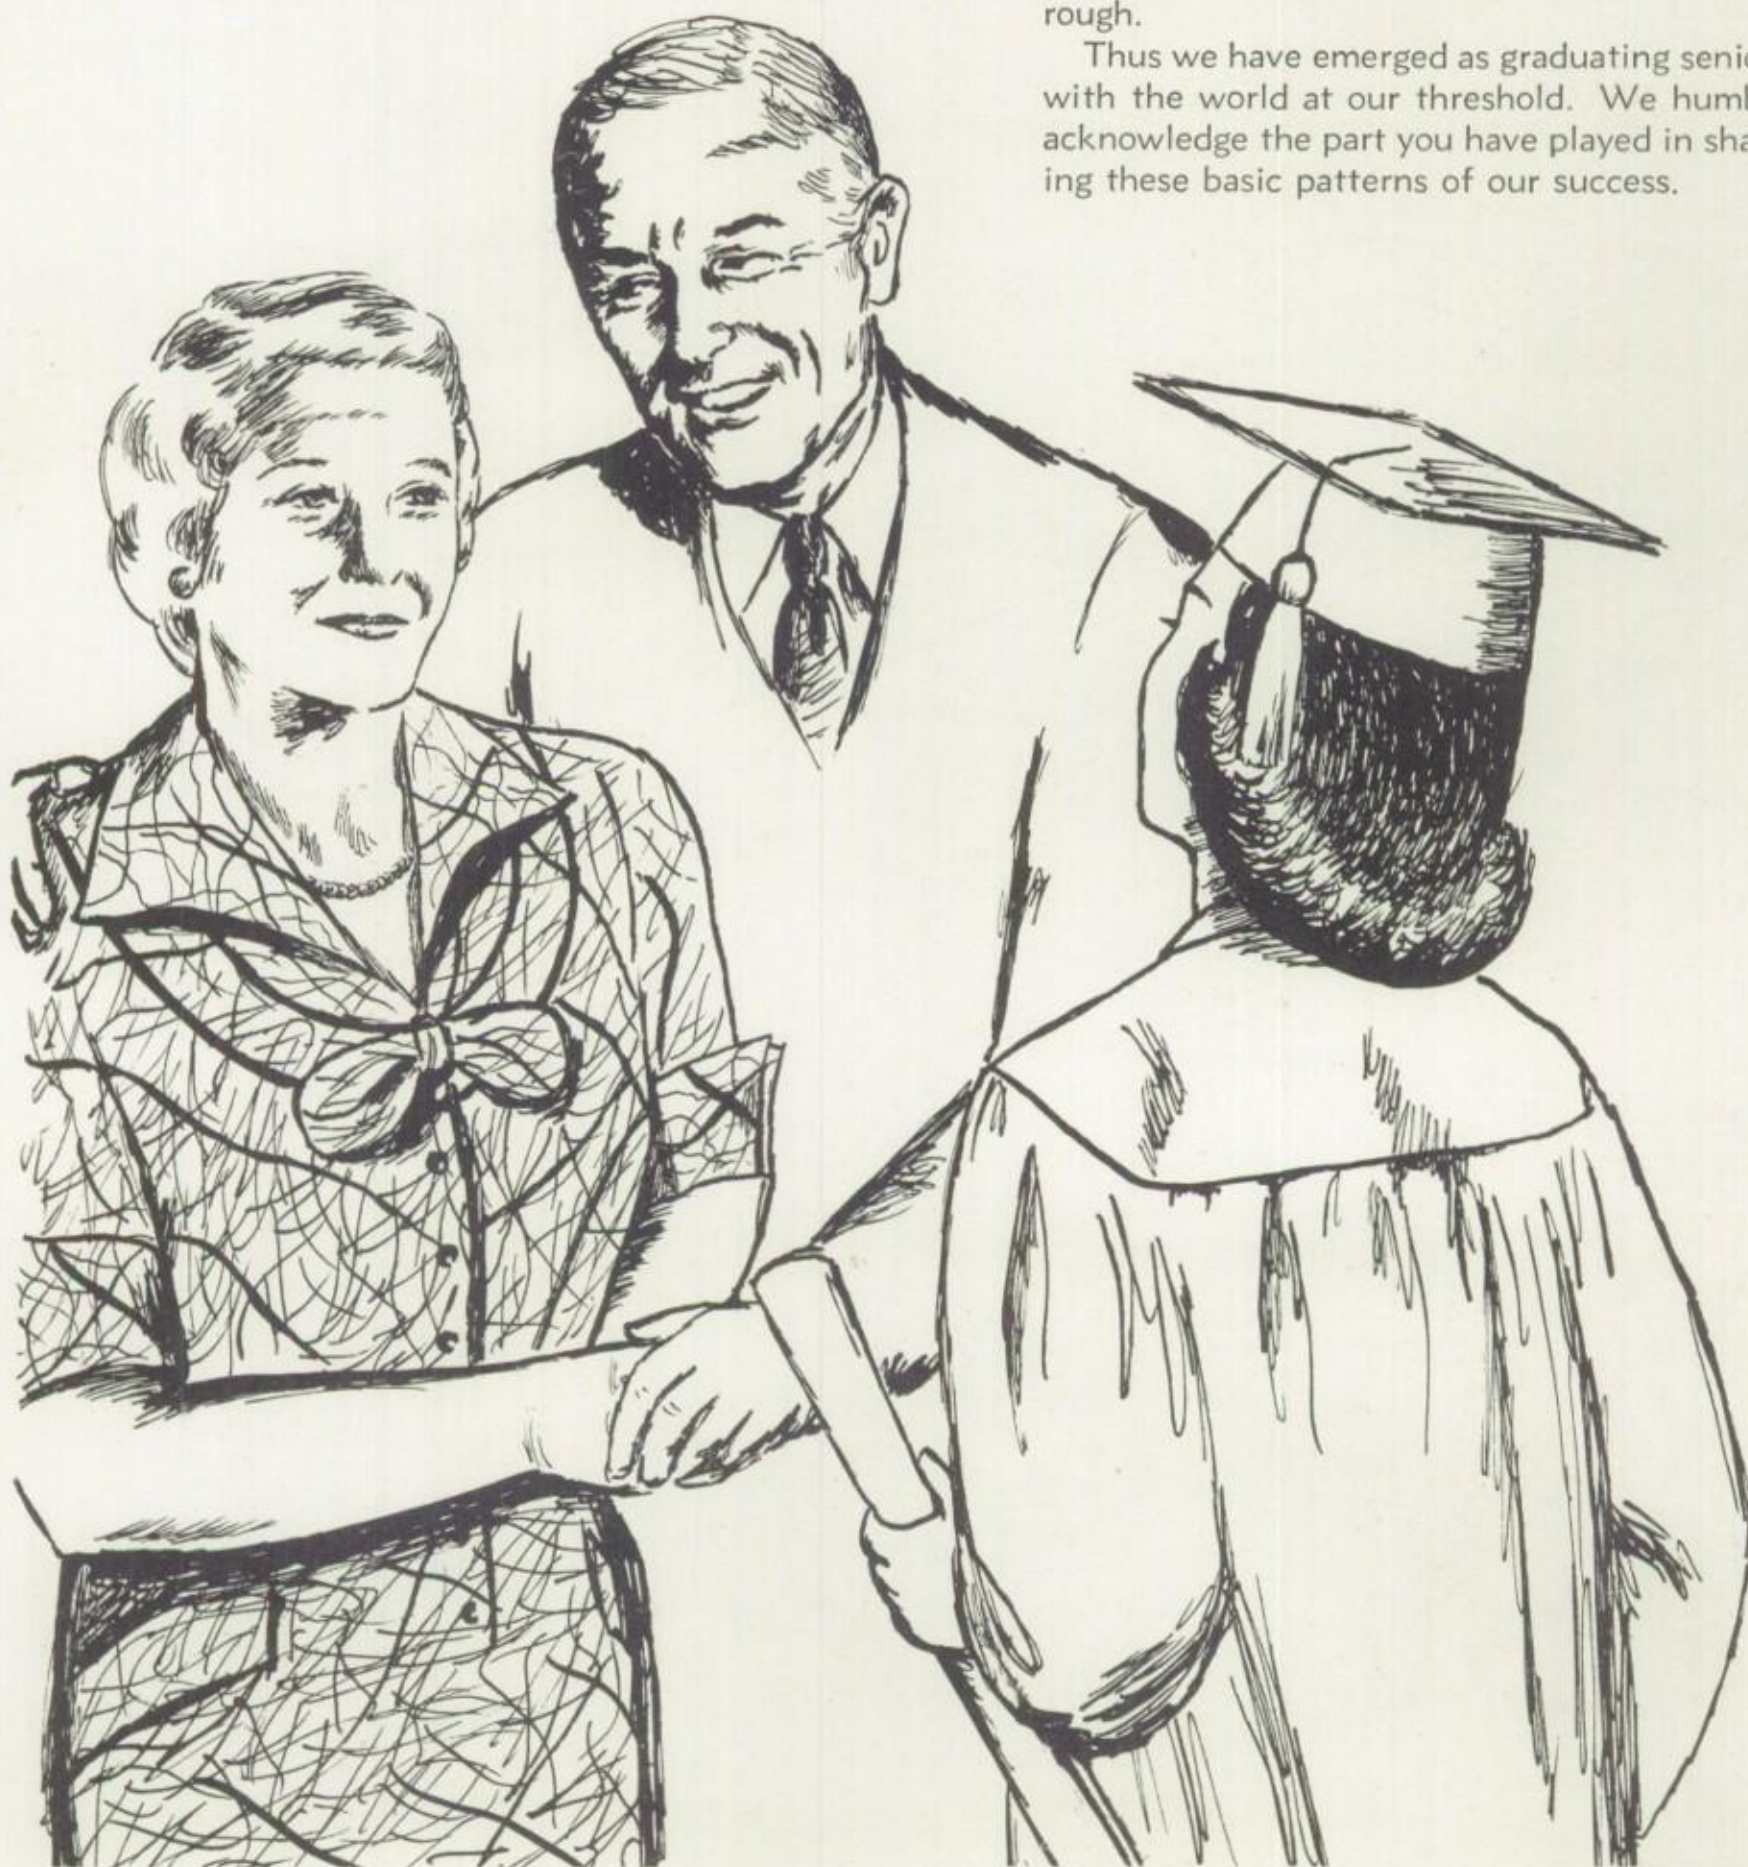

Now we are leaving all this to face a bigger, tougher world. But before we go, we, the Seniors of 1953, wish to go back through the pages of our Dial and review that life which we compare to no other—Life at M.H.S.

For all you have done....

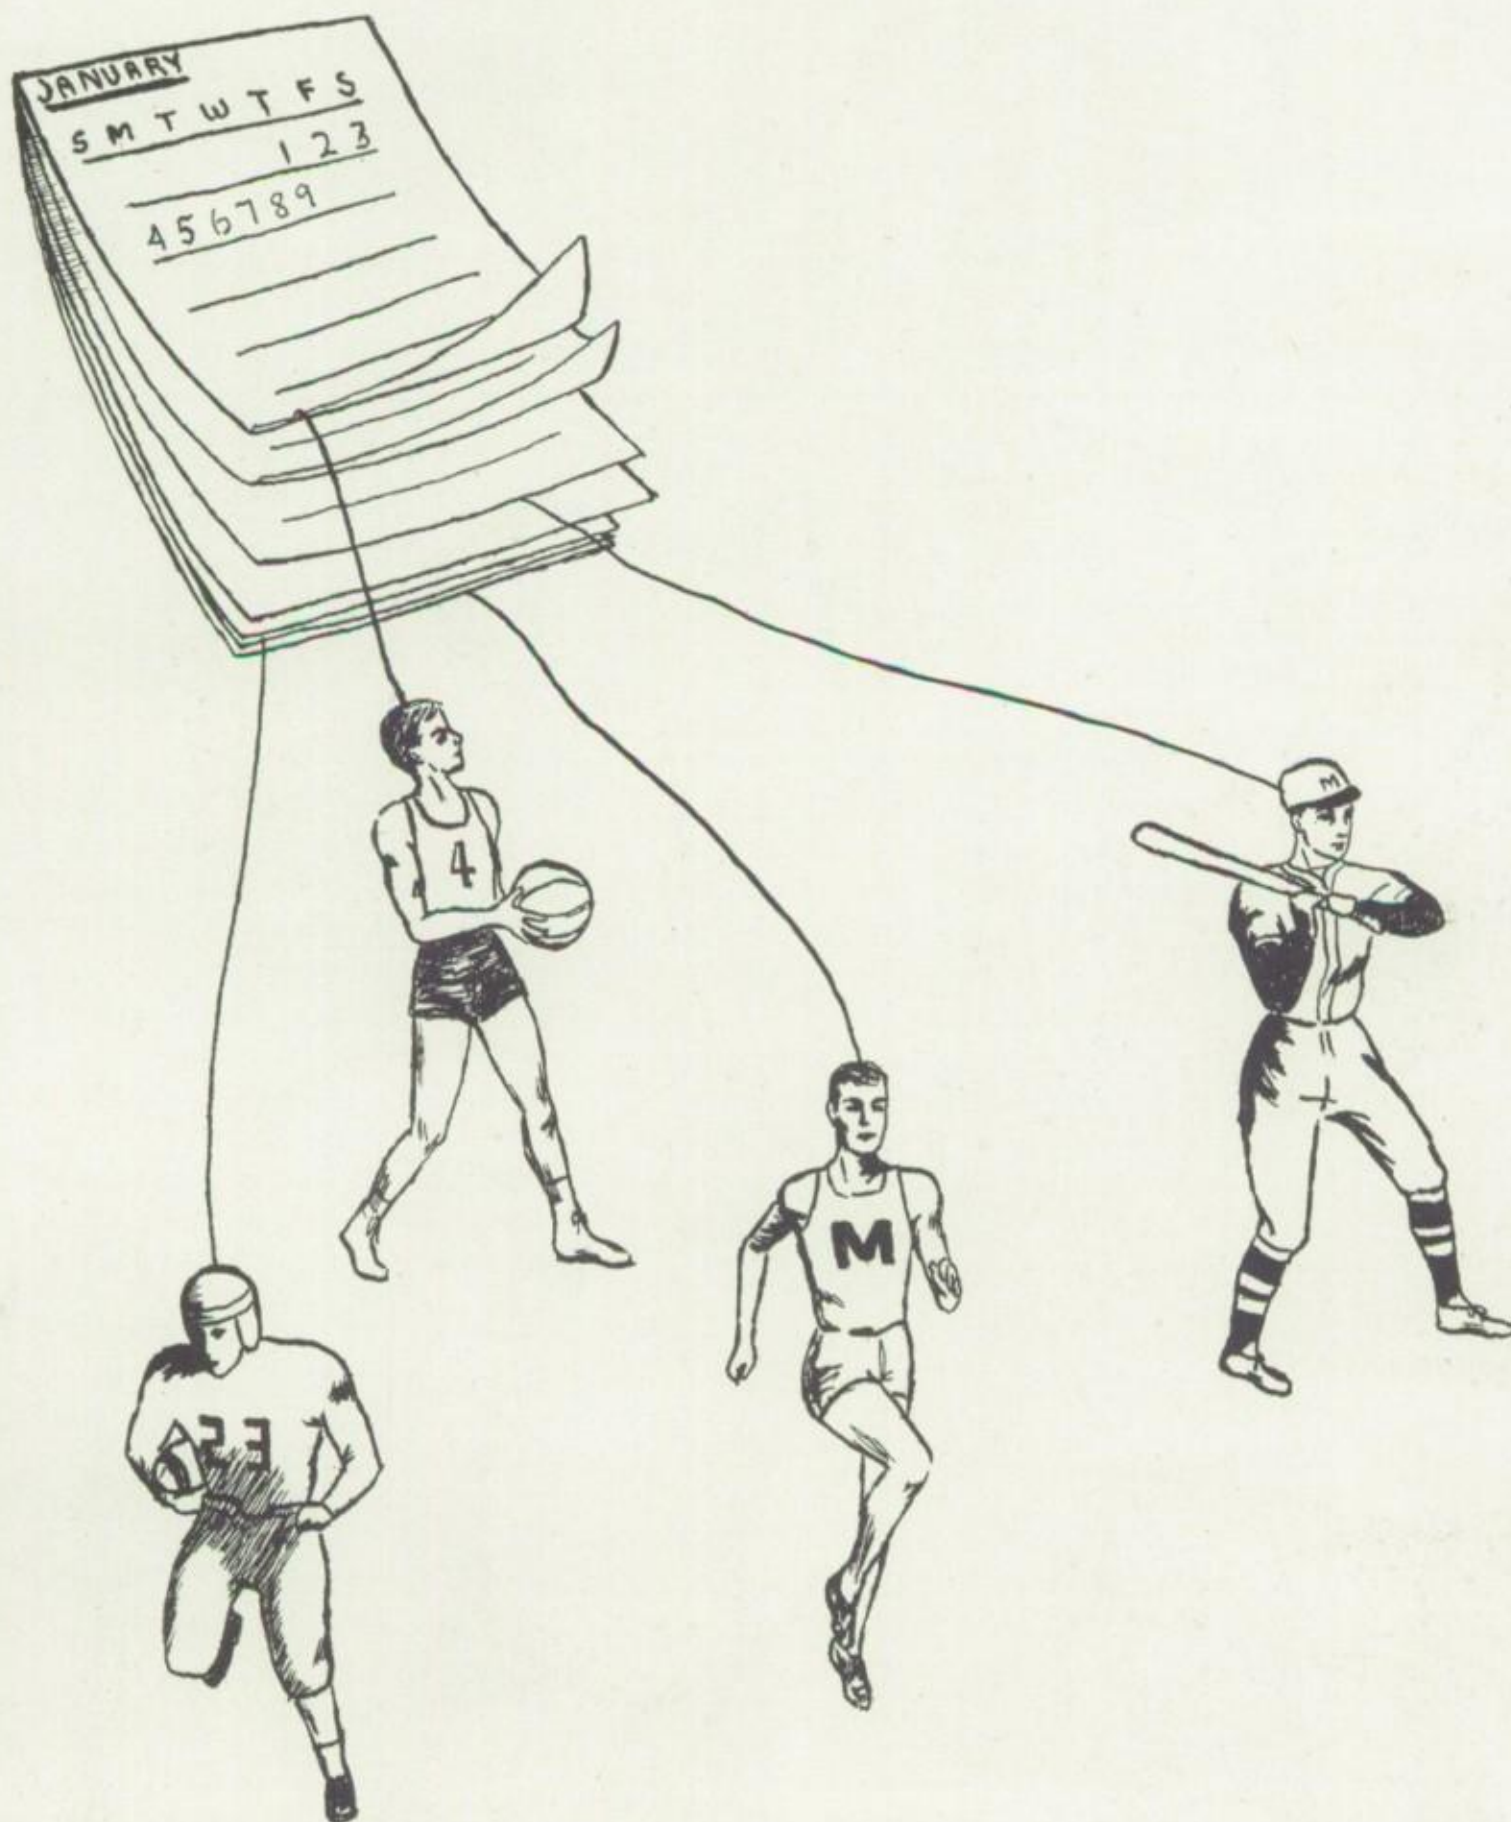

We, the graduating seniors, wish to dedicate our 1953 Dial to a group of people—a select group of genuine educators who have shared with us the joys and sorrows, the successes and failures that go hand in hand with high school life. You, our parents, have beamed when we were successful and buckled down to help us when we found the going a bit rough.

Thus we have emerged as graduating seniors with the world at our threshold. We humbly acknowledge the part you have played in shaping these basic patterns of our success.

Redskins Fought Injury Jinx Game After Game And Turned In Good Season

The Marshall Redskins began the season with two straight losses, one to the St. Philip Tigers on a last minute spectacular pass play 19-14 and a hard fought homecoming game to the East Lansing Trojans 6-0. The Redskins came back to squeeze by the Coldwater Cardinals on a last minute safety to win 15-14. In their fourth encounter they trounced a highly rated Three Rivers club 23-0. Being hampered by injuries during their next two games, the Redskins fell to the hard-fighting Mapleleafs of Adrian 15-6 and the Spartans of Lakeview 26-0. Their last two games were of a different spirit, as Marshall fought back to wallop the Trojans of Sturgis 23-8. The last game of the season was fought with Albion, their homecoming game, which ended in a 7-7 tie.

Although the Redskins did not have a championship team, as their past season records have shown, they had a hard fighting team throughout the entire season.

Our Cagers Compiled a Brilliant Record in '52-'53

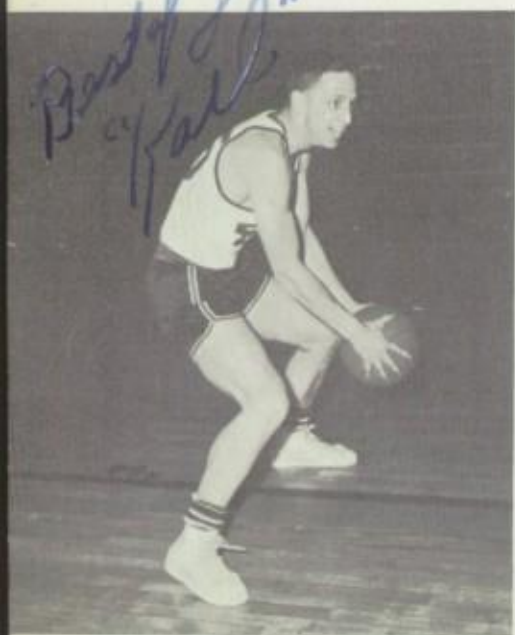

Joe Cooper, newly selected chief for the Redskins, led his tribe to a very successful season, winning 2nd place in Twin Valley and 1st in the District Tournaments. The thorough desire to have a good team was the inspiration which proved to be a main factor for such a good season.

The three games to be remembered were with Three Rivers, Adrian, and Sturgis. Against Three Rivers, in a hard-fought game, the Redskins bowed to a 54-51 decision. The games against Adrian and Sturgis also proved to be thrillers with Marshall scoring 58-57 and 57-56 triumphs.

The Reserve football squad provides local fans with a preview of things to come by training boys for action on the varsity squad. Mr. Cooper takes the boys who show promise and molds them for the finishing process that comes as a member of the varsity squad—the ultimate goal of every boy who participates in Reserve football.

Reserves

The Reserve basketball team, under the direction of Mr. Fleser, is composed of Freshmen and Sophomores who are out to show what they can do with the prospect of varsity participation in view. Here, as in Reserve football, the boys learn the fundamentals of the game and receive ample opportunity to develop themselves into good basketball players. Due to Marshall's enviable record in basketball over the years, much interest is shown in Reserve basketball.

MR. CHADDERDON

Our Band Placed High in District, State Contests

The Marshall High School Band started the year with an inexperienced group. They improved very rapidly during the marching season, performing drills that rated with the best. Their mid-winter concert was well received by a packed house. In the contests, Band, Orchestra, Solo and Ensemble, the Marshall musicians compared well with the other schools of the state. During the year, the Band was called on to play at various civic events. Marshall High can be proud of its instrumental music department.

The Cadet Band is the proving ground for young instrumentalists. Here students from the beginning band develop technique and confidence in preparation for becoming Senior Band members.

Cadet Band

Orchestra

The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Chadderdon, strives for musical perfection. It has rated high in competition with other groups. At both the Junior and Senior plays, the Orchestra added a professional touch.

Our Choir Was in "Good Voice" All Year

Under the direction of Miss Ellen Axon, the Choir presented two superb Concerts this year. One of their novelty numbers was a trio of three girls, Frances McCloud, Judy Young, and Norma Corwin. The Choir also presented three programs of a sacred nature to the high school during the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter seasons.

During half-time at the football games, the Band entertained the crowd with many original drills. One of the most enjoyed of the season was the Latin-American drill complete with a bull fight.

The instrumental music department was very fortunate this year to have purchased an electronic tuning device called a Strobeconn. With this instrument, it is possible to get any musical note very accurately in tune.

Band and Orchestra students during the year participate in individual solos and ensembles. Marshall had the honor of having its woodwind quintet picked as the best woodwind group at the District Festival.

Future Farmers

Complete Best Year in School's History

The Marshall Chapter of The Future Farmers of America had a successful year under the leadership of president Carlton Stanley. An important highlight of the year was an award received from the State F.F.A. Association, stating that the local Chapter had received a silver award for the chapter forming program, ranking 20th out of 225 chapters. The chapter was also proud to have six State Farmers. Marshall, with its 102 members, ranks seventh in size of all state chapters.

A series of educational tours was initiated this year. The seniors spent three days in Chicago. The juniors went on a one day trip to Detroit and the sophomores and freshmen went to Farmer's Week at M.S.C.

An award parent and son Banquet was held in May. Many other activities were included to round out a complete program.

Bud Maisner, Larry Van Horn, and Russell Myers

The Latin Club is organized to promote an interest in Latin outside of the regular class. The year's activities begin with a formal initiation of the new members. The Roman clothing used at the initiation is also worn at the annual Latin Club banquet and when the club members go caroling in the halls.

With a large enrollment of first-year students, the number in the Latin Club has grown to 73. The club holds bi-weekly meetings, with one business meeting and one program meeting each month. The club publishes its own newspaper with articles written in Latin. The year's activities are completed with a picnic for the entire club.

Latin and Spanish Clubs Create High Interest.

The purpose of the Spanish Club is to promote a better understanding of our neighbors south of the border. The Spanish costumes shown here at the initiation are worn when the club sings Christmas carols in Spanish for the school and at the annual Spanish Banquet. The costumes and the highly seasoned food give an authentic atmosphere to the banquet. New to the club this year is a club paper, "El Ojo" (The Eye), which contains news of interest to the Spanish students. Each Spring the club attends the Spanish "Fiesta" in Ann Arbor. Here their Spanish really comes to life with exhibits, plays, etc.

Art students hope to develop inventive imagination and find a medium of expression for their emotions. Students continue to use what they learn as industrial engineers or in hobbies they can follow all of their lives.

Art and Shop Provide Us With the Opportunity to Develop Our Creative Talents

The purpose of shop is to go beyond the making of projects. This work is a means toward an end. A student learns to draw a plan for a piece of work and put that work into a tangible form. Not the product, but the technique that he follows is the main consideration.

By offering shop work then, the purpose is to stimulate the boy's interest in things mechanical, to develop his ability in handling tools, to encourage his pride in personal achievement, and to interest him to work co-operatively.

Homeliving is much more than just cooking and sewing. It includes the care and guidance of children, the selection and care of the home and of its furnishings, the use and care of home equipment, maintenance of health, home care of the sick, good grooming, and human relationships.

In short, Homeliving centers on relationships, responsibilities and activities necessary to successful home, family, and community living.

Homeliving and Agriculture

Are the Keys to a More Prosperous Future

Ninety-seven boys have indicated that they are interested in farming as a future vocation by enrolling in Vocational Agriculture at Marshall High. Vocational Agriculture is presented as a four year course with subject matter being determined by the farming program of the boys enrolled. This year the boys completed 158 productive projects with a total net profit of $26,000. The boys are really "Earning while learning."

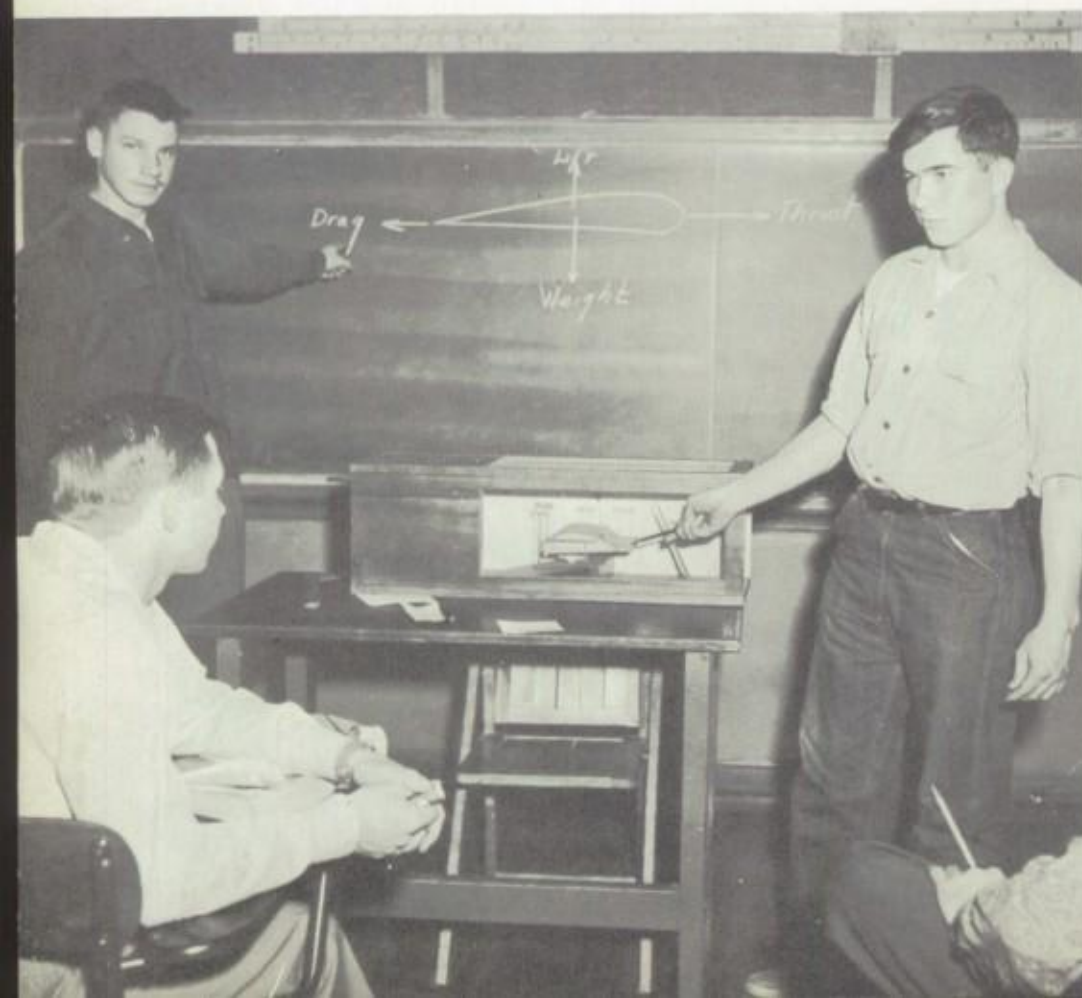

The Vocational Agriculture program also includes a young farmer class of twenty out of school members who hold thirty-six class meetings during the year.

The end result of Driver Training class is the knowledge and legal permission to operate an automobile. Here students learn the technical and practical aspects of how to drive and how not to drive. Most of the course is spent in actual driving where the student can get the "feel" of driving a car as well as the basic facts that must be mastered in connection with safe driving. This course covers countless aspects of driving of which the average driver is not conscious.

Driver Training and Aeronautics Teach Us the Fundamentals of Two Main Methods of Travel

The CAP-High School co-ordinated Aeronautics class is a new course added this year at M.H.S. This course is one full science credit toward graduation. Some of the phases of aviation studied are: theory of flight, airplanes, airplane engines, meteorology, navigation, air traffic control, and vocational opportunities in aviation.

The USAF, through the CAP has made available part-time, a L16 Liason Air Force plane to be used for familiarization flights for students who desire to fly. All members of this year's class not only enrolled in the course, but became members of the 635-4 squadron of the Civil Air Patrol.

Seniors in Basic Living class delve into the more involved facts of why we behave as we do. They learn the parts of the human body and the fundamentals of how to care for injuries to the body. They also study the basic facts of how to get along with other people. Everything the course offers has a practical application.

Basic Living -

Understanding Ourselves and Others

Debate Develops Persuasive Powers

Although relatively few students take part, great benefit is derived from Debate. Debaters learn to think and speak before an audience as well as learning to organize material. This year's question was "Resolved, that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Should Form a Federal Union."

This year's Negative team of new debaters won three out of four debates. Mr. Cunningham is looking forward to an improved squad next year.

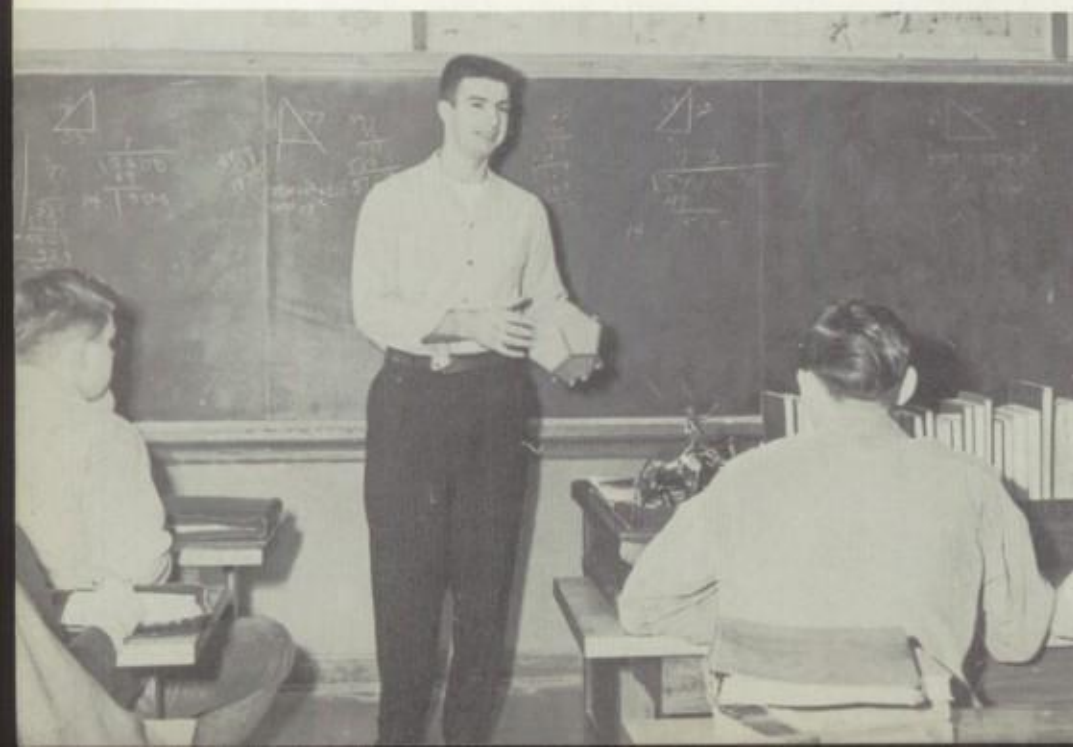

Algebra is a basic tool required to be used if a student is to understand the scientific part of our world today. For the first time, students learn to represent numbers by using letters and begin to transcribe English statements into algebraic equations. It is this equipment one needs if he is to take his place as an educated person in the modern, technical world.

Mathematics Teaches Us to Think Clearly

Geometry offers the opportunity for the students to better understand their environment and gain a knowledge of important facts. Statements are proved by a process of reasoning which develops habits of careful, connected, accurate thinking. Critical analysis and sound reasoning—two of the greatest helps in life, are also developed.

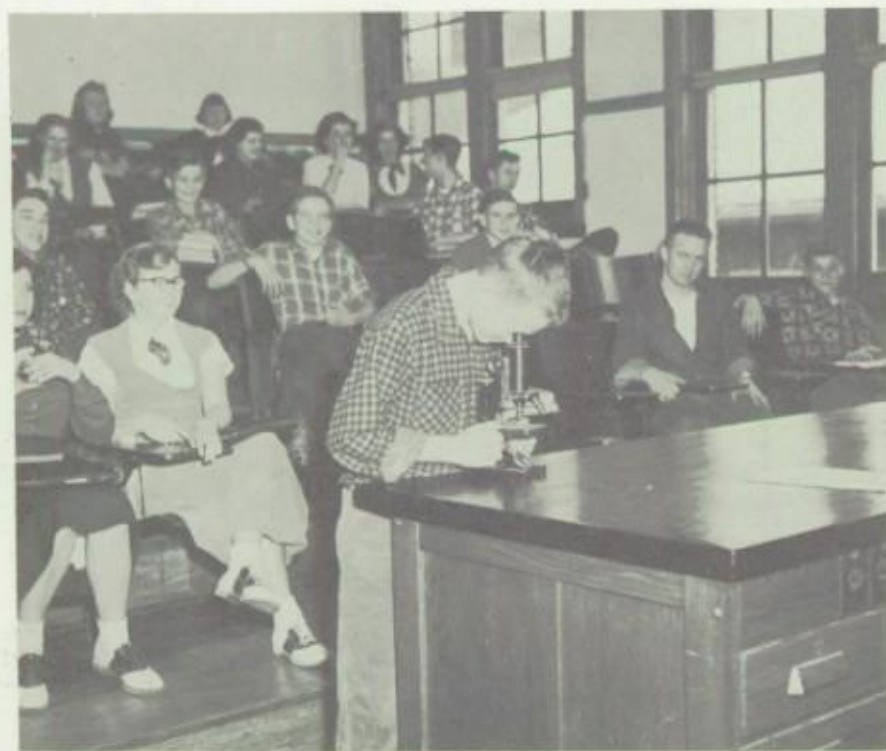

Solid Geometry provides the opportunity for students to develop their ability to visualize objects in space and prove problems relating geometric figures in one plane to figures in more than one plane. The training which boys and girls receive in it, and mathematics in general, will be reflected directly by their success in life.

Chemistry class offers students primarily a college preparatory course with the emphasis on theory. Some aspects of the subject are applied to everyday life. Students learn the meaning of scientific experimentation which will be necessary in any other science courses that may follow.

The Basic Sciences

Provide the Technical Aspect of Our Education

Biology provides the foundation of the students' science courses and the subject matter involved is geared to show the student the aspects of his natural environment that often have a very sound practical application. A good preparation is also provided for those who plan to study Biology in college.

Physics, like Chemistry, is primarily a college preparatory course. By the time students reach this level of their science education they have mastered the complex theories that will enable them to go to college with a good background for the complexities that lie ahead.

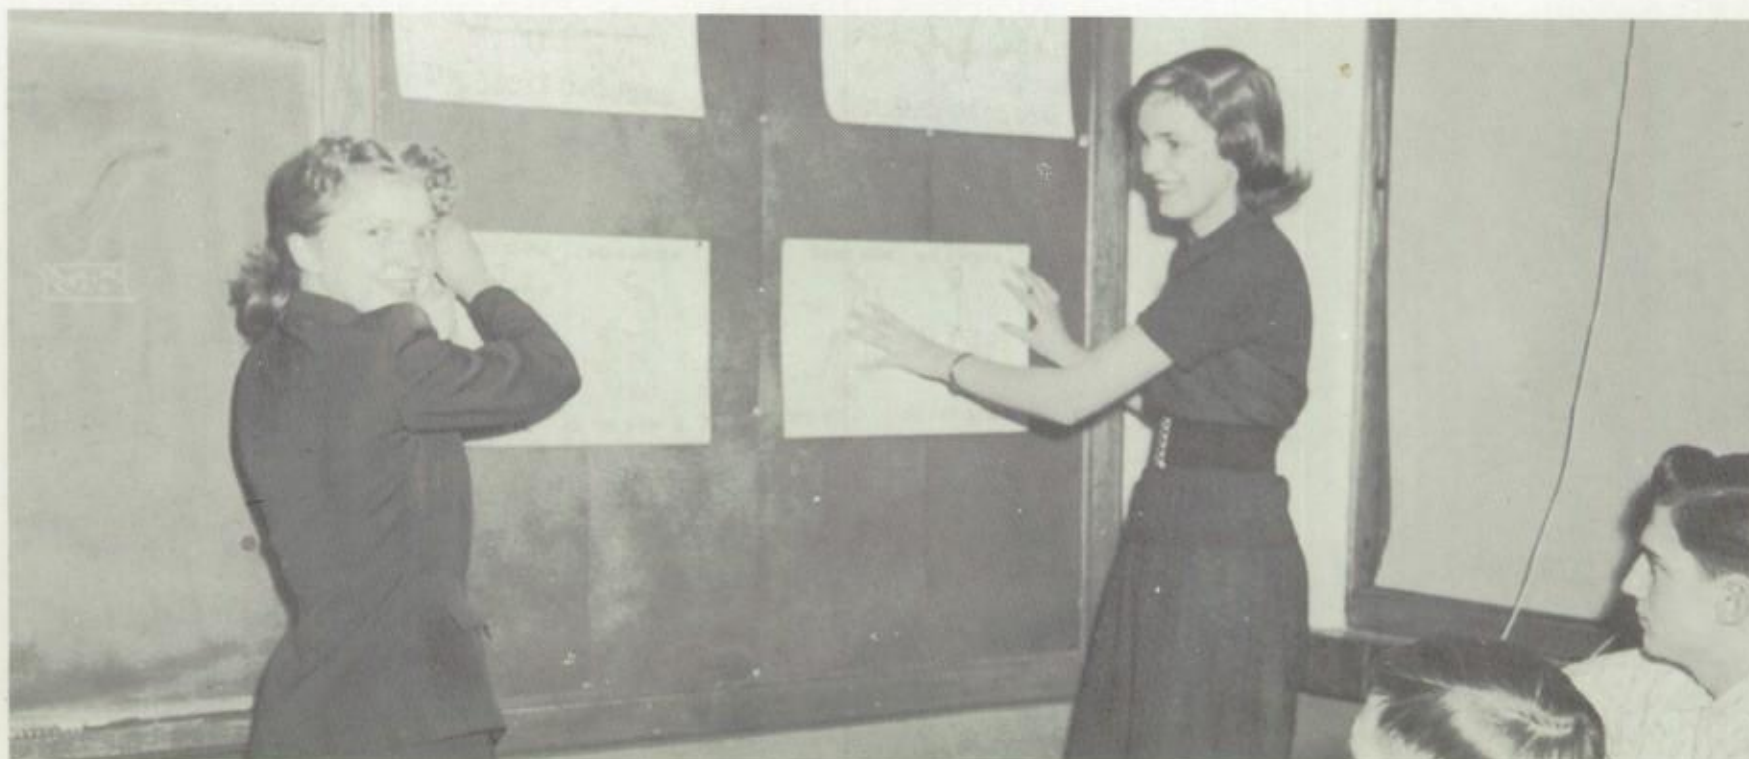

Speech and English Form the Backbone of Our Ability to Express Ourselves

In speech class, students learn to express themselves orally and to solve their problems of oral communication. Speech is a subject that will have a practical application in all phases of life.

In English class, students develop the written phase of communicative skills. Besides learning the basic fundamentals of our language, they share many experiences through the medium of literature.

Latin and Spanish--

The Study of Other Peoples' Language and Culture

Latin class offers the students an opportunity to learn the basic foundations of the English language as well as become familiar with the glory and intrigue of the Ancient Roman Empire.

Spanish class is devoted to the study of one of the most universal of the modern languages. A lot of study is also devoted to the customs and habits of Spanish-speaking people. Students become acquainted with, and actually communicate with their Latin American neighbors.

Step By Step - Deadline After Deadline

While the reporters are out digging up news for the next Dial, Ardeth Black, Art Editor, is busily preparing the stencils for the next issue.

Editor Pat Casey and Associate Editor Pete Goldberg prepare the layouts and complete the planning of the paper.

The deadline is past and Phyllis Pemberton, Yvonne Alexander, Shirley Presecan, and Camilla Prestidge are busy typing the stories as they come in.

Roger Conley, Harold Thomas, Sherry Van Elst, and Donna Kibbie take over the mimeograph machine and start the printing process.

Journalism Students Work Together

For A Better "Dial"

Responsible for the yearbook publication are Alan Cornwell, Business Manager, Jean Carr, Associate Editor, Don Zinn, Editor, and Ardys Plushnick, Art Editor. Their time is fully occupied from September to June in trying to create a better Annual that everyone will enjoy.

The Dial is out and all is peaceful again, so JoAnn Iden, Exchange Editor, sits down and begins her task of sending issues to other schools.

The papers are printed and Joan Goodrich, Audrey Boyd, Paddy Kinne, and June Rapp assemble the Dials and begin folding for the next issue.

The next step is to see that the papers are delivered to the home rooms. Russell Bidwell, Distribution Manager, takes over here, assisted by Don Brenner and Bob Allen.

History and Government-- The Keys to an Alert and Open Mind.

In History we learn how our basic principles of government evolved into the complex system we have today. In Government we break down these facts and form a better understanding of our American heritage, past and present. By observing the struggles of the past we learn to more efficiently cope with the problems of today—always with an open and inquiring mind.

Our School Leaders Plan For A Better Tomorrow

Ardeth Black, Vice-President; Jimmy Kimmel, Secretary-Treasurer and Louis Postula, President.

Student Council is the Nerve Center of School Activities.

Our student council has been growing stronger and more efficient as the years have progressed. The council is the student's version of genuine representative government in action. Many school policies such as assemblies and the student handbook are the responsibilities of the council.

Mr. Harley W. Holmes, our superintendent, came to Marshall November 1, 1929 and has been active in educational work throughout Michigan, besides raising our own system to extremely high standards. We are proud of our superintendent and are fully conscious of the things he has done for us.

School Administration-

Our Education Rests on Their Shoulders.

Mr. Edward G. Rose, our principal, and Mr. Bruce Gray, assistant principal, are the key men in forming and conducting the policies of our high school. Mr. Rose can be depended upon at any time to offer our assistance in our school program. Mr. Gray is athletic director and also is in charge of attendance records. To these men go a great deal of credit for the high standards our school has achieved.

Besides handling a steady stream of clerical work, our school secretaries, Mrs. Vira Hecht, and Mrs. Betty Mitchell can always be depended upon to offer assistance to students who come to the main office with their daily problems.

Our Board of Education is the Governing Body of the Entire School System

The Board of Education acts as the governing body of our schools and is in constant search of new and better methods of improvement. Through their untiring efforts, we in Marshall now have a school system that will stand up against any in the state, regardless of size.

Seniors Look Back on One Career-

Forward to Another

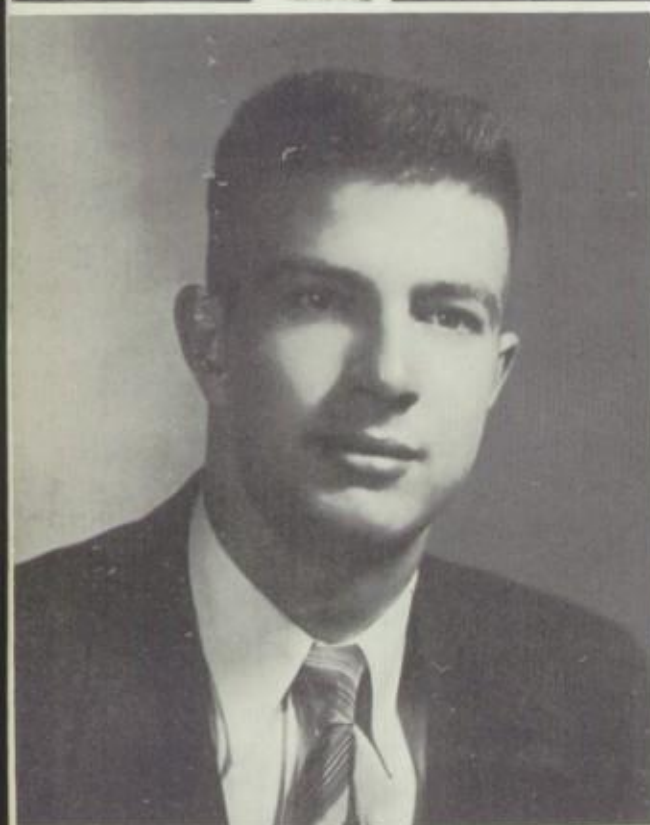

JULIAN KATZ

Aside from doing an outstanding job as our Senior Class President and being high scholastically, Julian also promoted fine citizenship and cooperation among students.

PAT CASEY

Always striving for perfection, Pat achieved a high scholastic average, edited the Bi-Weekly Dial, and was chosen D.A.R. girl in her Senior year.

LOUIS POSTULA

Louie was very successful in following the Postula tradition during his high school years as he was tops scholastically besides starring in all sports in which he participated.

Five Seniors Named Tops for '53---

Each year the graduating seniors who have stood out in all-round school achievement are named by a faculty committee. This year five people received this coveted honor.

ARDYS PLUSHNICK

Ardys, both talented and charming, was our homecoming co-queen and did the art work for this annual besides maintaining a high scholastic standing throughout school.

DON ZINN

As a debater, musician, and Editor of this Yearbook, Don's untiring energy and keen mind combined to form a brilliant contribution to our school.

JULIAN W. KATZ

Friendly Julian was president of his Senior Class. He worked on the stage crew his Senior year and introduced the Senior Amateur Show. Mr. Cunningham and Miss Erskine were tops on his list of favorite teachers. When Julian wasn't running around with Darrell Tester and Peter Goldberg, you could find him eating hamburgs at the Ritzee and listening to "Why Don't You Believe Me" on the jukebox.

CAMILLA L. PRESTIDGE

Cute Cammy, with those glittering brown eyes was a member of G.A.A. 4 years, Senior Band Freshman yr., Latin Club her Sophomore and Junior yrs., served on J-Hop and G.A.A. decoration committees, on stage crew for the Junior Play, and was overwhelmingly chosen as Vice-Pres. for the Senior class. She was a news reporter on the Dial her Senior year. While Camilla was disinclined to slow people, walking to class with Phil was her favorite pastime.

MARGARET ELAINE WAIDELY

Popular Peg was a member of G.A.A. 4 yrs., Student Council 2, Biology Club 1, Commercial Club 1, and Spanish Club 2. (Treasurer and Program Chairman, Senior yr.) Blonde-haired Peg spent 3 yrs. in F.H.A., (Reporter, Sophomore, Songleader, Junior yr.) 2 in Library Club (Vice-Pres. Sophomore, Pres., Junior yr.) and 1 yr. in Usher Club and Glee Club. College-bound Peg, who wants to be a Physical Education teacher, spent 4 yrs. in Choir, played "Lucy" in the Junior Play, and worked on the J-Hop Decorations Committee.

E. MARILYN ALBRECHT

Sports-minded Marilyn glided through G.A.A. 4 yrs., F.H.A. and Library Club 1 yr., and worked on the make-up crew for the Junior Play. She found her greatest enjoyment in horseback riding and G.A.A. sports. Marilyn's closest friend was Marie Baker, and Miss Erskine, Miss Keifer, and Miss Carey were tops with her. Girls who smoke disgust blonde-haired Marilyn who will never forget checking coats at the G.A.A. Formal. Marilyn's future will find her humming "Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes" at either Oliver's or Kellogg's.

YVONNE MARION ALEXANDER

College-bound Yvonne liked bowling and movies. She spent a lot of time on Spanish Club activities. Mrs. Beechler and Miss Erskine were her favorites on the faculty. Two events made her very happy: the J-Hop her Junior yr., and the Spanish Club trip to Ann Arbor. Yvonne belonged to Commercial Club 1 yr., Journalism 1, Library 1, Spanish Club 2, and worked on the Junior Play crew.

ROBERT ALLEN

Daring Bob lettered 4 yrs. in football and 2 in track. He was news reporter for Journalism his Senior yr. Bob played in the Senior Band 1 yr., was in choir 2 yrs., Senior Amateur Show and he was J-Hop Co-Chairman. He chummed with Bob VandenHeede, Russ Bidwell, Fred Hanke, Alan Cornwell, and his favorite teacher was Mr. Cunningham. Bob was usually dancing at Springport or eating hamburgs at the Ritzee and listening to "You Belong To Me." The J-Hop and winning in the relay team at Albion Invitationals stand out among his school memories.

1 yr. Choir, 1 Glee Club, advertisement committee for the Jr. Play, and participating in the Senior Amateur Show were the various activities of Lil. She chummed with Mary Hall, Norma Mitchell, and Shirley Fountain. Drawing, Mrs. McVean, and "O' Happy Day" were her favorites, while conceited people were her pet peeve. Lil plans to work, then attend art school.

MARIE BAKER

Slim Marie spent her spare time reading and horse back riding. She bounced through G.A.A. 2 years, Biology Club, Commercial Club, F.H.A., Library Club, and Latin Club 1 year. Marie sang in the amateur show her senior year. Marie palled with Marilyn Albrect and Paddy Kinne. Her favorite teachers were Mrs. Murray and Mr. Crumrine. Jubilant Marie plans to enter nurses' training at Leila. "You'll Never Walk Alone" held first place in Marie's love for singing.

WILLIAM G. BAUER

Powerful Bill, better known to his friends as "Tex," played reserve football his freshman year and belonged to the F.F.A. 1 yr. He palled around with Dick Walker and Art Casey his Senior year.
